Blue Water Habitat Renews Scholarship Program for Second Year

Port Huron, MI— Blue Water Habitat for Humanity is now accepting applications for the Power Fund for Education scholarship program.

The Blue Water Habitat for Humanity Power Fund for Education is a fund set aside to help further the educational opportunities of Blue Water Habitat homeowners and children of homeowners. This year, Habitat continues the program by renewing the scholarship opportunities for families. In an effort to promote the higher education and betterment of families who have partnered with Blue Water Habitat for Humanity, the affiliate decided to set up Power Fund after a contribution from Maureen Power, a former teacher, to honor her educational background and support of the mission of Habitat for Humanity.

Applications are available online at www.bwhabitat.org. All application materials must be complete and submitted to Blue Water Habitat for Humanity by 4:30 p.m. on May 30, 2014.

Scholarship applications and material will be reviewed by a volunteer scholarship committee. Awards will be based on: Educational grades and achievement; Clarity, quality and content of the personal summary and application form; Evidence that the applicant is pursuing enrollment in a post-secondary education program; Letters of recommendation.

To be eligible for consideration, the applicant must be in his/her last semester of high school, enrolled in an accredited post secondary educational institute, or show evidence of acceptance into a post secondary educational institute. In addition, the applicant must be the legal homeowner or legal child of a homeowner of a current or former property mortgaged by Blue Water Habitat for Humanity.

Note: The school the applicant is applying to must be in the State of Michigan. This scholarship is to be used strictly within the State of Michigan.
